

YSGOL GWENFFRWD 14/12/22

Llythyr / Letter 10

Annwyl rieni a theuluoedd/ Dear parents and families;

Mor hyfryd oedd eich gweld mewn cyngherddau Nadolig yn y Neuadd Fawr unwaith eto eleni, wedi 'r Cyfnod Clo, a diolch am eich geiriau caredig wedi inni berfformio 4 cyngerdd. Diolch hefyd am eich cefnogaeth drwy'r flwyddyn a aeth heibio- mae'n cael ei werthfawrogi gennym wrth inni geisio sicrhau y profiadau dysgu gorau i ddisgyblion Gwenffrwd.

It was so lovely to see an audience once again in our 4 Christmas performances in the Main Hall- back to normal at last, following the pandemic! Thank you for your kind comments at the end of each performance- appreciating the pupils' hard work, and their enjoyment of music and dance. Many thanks for your continued support throughout the past year - it is much appreciated, - as staff, the SLT and the Governing Body strive to offer varied, interesting and wide ranging curricular experiences for all Gwenffrwd pupils. However, the next year or so will have its challenges due to the financial strain on schools.

POB DYMUNIAD DA i Mrs Alys Williams sydd newydd ddechrau ei chyfnod mamolaeth.	12-12-22	Our best wishes go to Mrs Alys Williams who has just started her maternity leave.

A Happy Christmas to you all!

Ac fel y byddwn yn paratoi at yr Wyl, a'r flwyddyn newydd, hoffwn ddwyn i gof eto y gerdd arbennig isod, un sy'n rhoi blaenoriaeth i'r plentyn.

As we prepare for the festive season and the new year- I wish to share, once again, with you, this special poem (see below), which puts the child first in our thoughts. DIOLCH.

Yn Gywir / Sincerely

M. Sola Owen (Pennaeth:Headteacher)

A POEM:

The Ends of the Earth by George the Poet

George Mpanga, better known by his stage name George the Poet, is a British spoken-word poet, whose poetry focuses on political and social issues. This poem talks about the importance of and value of children in society.

The Ends of the Earth by George the Poet

A child is not a portion of an adult.

It's not a partial being.

A child is an absolute person,

An entire life.

The fact that the child is developing

Doesn't mean it's incomplete.

This just makes it especially important for the Child to drink and eat, and get a decent wink of sleep,

Many children are given less than children deserve;

Such is the world they entered at birth.

But all it takes is one friend ... one friend

Who's willing to go to the end of the earth.

For children in the hardest circumstances,

A friend who gives in to no resistance.

Whether down the road or around the globe.

One who's prepared to go the distance,

One who's not scared to show persistence.

No task is too tall, no ask is too small

To send through... to attend to.

You could be a friend, too.

Go to the ends of the Earth, for children.
